

WHAT FOLLOWS AFTER TENURE?

Cristina Ruiz Martin

Carleton University
1125 Colonel By Drive
Ottawa, Ontario K1S 5B6, CANADA

ABSTRACT

When one starts their career as professor, the first thing they need to achieve is tenure. After 3-5 years, once tenure is achieved, we still have many years in our career before retirement. Sometimes, it is not easy to decide how to move forward. For example, in many universities, in year 6, professors have their first sabbatical. It is not always easy to decide how to address this milestone. What should be included in the sabbatical plan? What are the common activities that are done during sabbaticals? How do we build connections to get invited to an institution for our sabbatical? At the same time, we also face other challenges that are critical for promotion: How do we build international collaborations? How to participate in multidisciplinary international projects? In this panel, professors, in different career stages and from different countries, will share their own experience and how they addressed these challenges.

AUTHOR BIOGRAPHIES

CRISTINA RUIZ MARTIN is Ph.D. from both Universidad de Valladolid (Spain) and Carleton University (Ottawa, Canada). She has done her Ph.D. in cotutelle. She received an Engineering degree, a M.Sc. and a Master in Project Management from UVa. Her research interests are Organizational Resilience, Discrete-Event Modeling and Simulation, Agent-Based Modeling, and Network Theory. Her email address is cristinaruizmartin@sce.carleton.ca.